Re: Olympics and Paralympics Work (FINAL)

The purpose of this memo is to identify responsible staff from the Development Services Department for specific aspects of planning and implementation work related to the 2028 Olympics and Paralympics. As you all know, there have been numerous LA28 Olympic "summits", "gatherings", informational sessions, and other hype sessions that many of us have attended. Some are more focused than others, some are topical, most are still at the 30,000 foot level. We have been doing our best over the past year or so to have the right people attending the right sessions, where value can be added. As we are now getting closer to having an actual plan for Santa Anita Park, it is important to figure out who should be doing what and how these items work together. Clearly, this will evolve over time, and duties and focus will shift, but once the Olympic behemoth starts rolling along, I just want us to be ready for it locally so we are not scrambling.

I've organized this into the most logical topical areas as I see them. I have also attached a previously-written memo talking about zoning, entitlements, and construction issues, which will be a large part of our upcoming work.

Contracts and Agreements (All)

There will be a series of agreements between LA28 and related entities. I have worked on the initial Venue City Agreement with Dominic, Justine, and Mike. This was approved by the City Council in October. There will be important subsequent agreements that will largely be handled by the City Manager's office related to division of resources and responsibilities, reimbursement, and other key issues. There may be aspects of these agreements that will be pushed to DSD, but I believe the CM office will have primary responsibility. So, the takeaway here is just for any of you to be ready to help out with this aspect as needed.

Games Footprint and "Blast Radius" (Kevin)

This is ongoing and an extremely important part of all of the subsequent work we will do. This is the official area that is designated as the Games footprint, where all competitions, viewing, and official Olympic activities will occur. As you all know, there is no parking or general access within this area. As such, the LA28 Security teams are developing the "blast radius" for the footprint, which essentially will determine the danger zone for possible threats or attacks on the footprint area. The designation of the blast radius is of major importance as it will determine which streets will be closed, which areas will need lockdown, etc. For example, if Colorado Place or even Baldwin Ave are included, that will be a significant impact on city functions. We should know these designations soon, and while I think they will be final pretty soon, they will likely change and evolve based on expected impacts.

Kevin has been the most involved in this as the discussion of transportation into the venue have been critical to this portion of the work. Once this information is released, Kevin would likely be the lead on getting this out to you all.

Zoning, Approvals, and Construction (Lisa and Ken, John on Engineering issues)

As mentioned above, see the attached memo on this that was prepared a couple of months ago. This memo was circulated to Dominic, Mike, and Lisa and we all agreed on the process. It is important to note that we are treating this as an actual land use and not a temporary use permit or special event. Clearly, with something as big as the Olympics, with all the various players involved, the work on these aspects will be very reactionary. Meaning, we will likely get plans late and be asked for immediate approvals, plans will change frequently, and asks will come quickly. Just like everything we always deal with at the Racetrack.

Lisa and Ken will be the primary contacts for this part of the work. The representative I have been working with from the track is Nici Boon, who many of you know. I spoke with Nici on November 21. She is finishing up the due diligence phase and shared with me the broad strokes of a schedule moving forward. They have submitted their "final" course design to LA28 and believe they will have approval soon. Nici is looking to schedule an "all hands" meeting between Santa Anita, her team, and the City, in mid-December. She is going to wrangle her people and get me an email suggesting a date or dates. This will be an important meeting as it will set the schedule and roles moving forward.

Nici will be submitting a tree removal plan and tree pruning plan at some point soon as well. We will need to send this out to the neighbors as well and notice it.

Another aspect of Zoning that we should consider is what to do about short-term rentals. As you all know, we don't allow rentals of less than 28 days. We may want to consider affirmatively removing that regulation during the Olympics part of the calendar…or at least acknowledging it in some way.

Advertising and Marketing (Simon)

One aspect of the LA28 workforce is a group that deals with local advertising and marketing. Rather than just focusing on Olympic themed banners and/or Olympic imagery, they also sell marketing rights to their major partners. We have been asked to provide our marketing assets and options which are currently under review by Jillian Scott of LA28. Justine is aware of this work, and will likely be the lead, but I will also send the information to Simon to be involved with this one because it has to do with Economic Development and marketing. Essentially, LA28 "auctions" a City's assets (e.g. banner poles, installation locations, across the street banners, etc.) as part of a package to their major sponsors. I have no idea if our assets will be of interest but maybe to sponsors of equestrian things….like Longines, Blancpain, and the like. In any event, Jillian Scott has our spreadsheet and supporting documentation and they are reviewing it.

At some point we will need to take an item to City Council if we are to use our assets for something other than non-profit and community events. This could likely be a Resolution or simply approval to allow Olympic related advertising as an exception to our policy.

Transit and Transportation (Kevin and Alana. John backing up)

This is probably the piece that we are furthest along on. Kevin and Alana (with John as backup) have attended several different recurring meetings, including the Games Route Network meetings, First Mile/Last Mile, and various meetings hosted by Metro or Caltrans or even SCAG. There are a lot of cooks in the kitchen on these issues, and they range from the regional network of bus lines and remote parking areas to very site specific methods of getting people into Santa Anita Park from the light rail station and beyond. This will be the focus of a lot of our work.

While we do know some of the regional stuff, the games footprint and blast radius stuff will start to frame out how Arcadia gets people into the venue. So, that is a key upcoming step as mentioned. We will need to tier off of that to determine pathways into the venue, routes for buses and shuttles, and other methods of moving people. Arcadia Transit will likely have a large role, as will additional shuttle services and official Olympic transport.

One of the most interesting aspects of this work is how we are going to make it a good user experience to get from the A Line Station to the venue. We have talked about options for closing Santa Clara Street and making it a "games experience" street. This could be a very cool option. We also need to focus on how we get people from the corner of Huntington and Colorado Place next to the Hilton, into the site. This will likely need to involve closures or new walkways and will need to involve private investment on the SART site as well because there is no user-friendly path once you leave the public right of way into the venue. An option we have discussed is using grant money or CDBG money to create an ADA-accessible path to the venue. The time is right to start talking about this.

Related to this is something that is coming through the first mile/last mile efforts called the Olympic “Kit of Parts”. In simple terms, this is a set of items that local venue cities can complete that enhance the visitor experience. Examples might be pedestrian amenities, shade structures, hydration stations, sidewalk improvements, etc. This will be something that might end up being better aligned with the “involving the community” section below, but it is a separate and distinct group from LA28.

Involving the Community and Businesses, Viewing Parties, etc. (Simon, All)

Dominic has recently started a team of internal folks to begin talking about this. What do we do ourselves to make the City ready for a great Olympic experience? Marketing feeds into this, as well as connections with the Chamber of Commerce and other local business groups or maybe major players in town like the Shops at Santa Anita, USC Arcadia, AUSD, etc. What can we do in the A-Line Plaza that feels like a permanent nod to the Games? Viewing parties in town…where and how? Also, are there local efforts to create imagery and installations welcoming the Games?

In terms of the Chamber and the business connections, everyone wants to be involved in some way. There may be low cost but effective ways to help businesses attract fans, promote the games, etc. Another aspect that should be kicked off fairly soon.

Finally, there are likely to be businesses, private parties, Shops at Santa Anita, etc. that will want to host their own events and/or watch parties or promotions related to the Olympics. I have heard, too, that Santa Anita Park may set up a daily “watch party” at the venue as well. We should be giving some thought to our TUP process and allowing a certain streamlined level of review for these types of events around the Games. They will likely vary widely in magnitude so a collective approach makes sense. This aligns with the comments earlier about changing the regulations for use of banners and assets as well as the comments on short term rentals. There likely is a suite of regulations we should loosen for the Olympics and we can probably do this through City Council Resolution. We did this for certain things during COVID, like outdoor dining, and a similar process could be completed here.
